Gladys Gill provided the Commission with an overview of the proposed Legends Reserve project, including the associated Planned Unit Development (PUD).

Ryan McCarty with Select Design then addressed the Commission, offering additional details and explaining the rationale for requesting a Comprehensive Plan Amendment. He stated that changing the designation for the northwest corner of 111th and Mingo from Mixed Use to Residential and Commercial would better align with the surrounding area.

Commissioner Nave asked for clarification on the Mixed Use designation and noted that, in his opinion, the project still qualifies as Mixed Use since it includes both Residential and Commercial uses.

Chairman Mohler opened the floor for public comments and gave the public some guidelines when speaking. Several residents addressed the Commission with their concerns and comments regarding the proposed development:

- Scott Sinclair, speaking on behalf of his father, Jim Sinclair, voiced concerns about drainage and water mitigation.
- Karl Snow presented photos for the Commission to review, showing drainage conditions at 111th and Mingo and images of The Fountains project at 121st and Mingo.
- Kurt Preston expressed his desire for adequate water retention to prevent flooding and raised concerns about the soil conditions in the area.
- Ray Neal inquired about the square footage of the residential units and asked what types of businesses would be included in the commercial development at the hard corner.
- Lucus Keppel, Pastor at Trinity Presbyterian Church, spoke in favor of the proposed development, expressing support on behalf of himself and the church.
- Timothy Maynard asked about the buffer between his property and the residential development.

Chairman Mohler closed the floor to public comment and invited the applicant to respond to the concerns raised.

Ryan McCarty addressed the audience, confirming that the minimum lot width for the residential area is 60 feet, with a maximum building height of two stories. He also stated that an 8-foot masonry wall would be constructed between the commercial and residential area.

Regarding the commercial area, Mr. McCarty clarified that marijuana and sexually oriented businesses would be prohibited. He also addressed drainage concerns, explaining that the Legends pond was initially designed to accommodate runoff from the intended commercial development. A discussion followed between Mr. McCarty and the Commission.

Chairman Mohler thanked the public for voicing their concerns about drainage but reminded them that the Planning Commission primarily focuses on zoning and land use. He noted that drainage design and water retention would be addressed during the engineering phase.

- Diana Copenhaver expressed concerns about the proposed home sizes, flooding issues, and the condition of South Sheridan Road.

Commissioner Holland inquired about water pressure in the area, noting that he was previously unaware of any issues. A discussion followed.

Commissioner Holland then asked if the applicant would consider reducing the percentage of homes with a minimum size of 1,600 square feet. Mr. Cross declined. This led to further discussion among the Commissioners regarding home sizes. Vice Chair Nave asked for Phil Frazier's direction on whether to consider the public's concern when voting on items. Mr. Frazier reiterated that the Planning Commission's primary focus is zoning and land use, and they are only a recommending body.
